

Mid-Century Design, Slow Food & Wine Mosaics in Piemonte

4 - 14 June 2026

In giro Tours invites you to join us next June in beautiful Piemonte, Italy, for a one of a kind mosaic journey celebrating mid-century design, slow food, fine wine and artisanship. This tour will appeal to both experienced mosaicists and absolute beginners, keen to dip their toes in the world of mosaic-making.

Join us as we get under the captivating skin of this beautiful region in the north-west of Italy and discover an unspoilt cultural and culinary gem, boasting some of the most stunning and varied landscapes in Italy.

The centrepiece of this exclusive 11-day experience is a 5-day mosaic workshop inspired by the local works of Gino Severini, guided by two internationally acclaimed and much-loved maestre: Arianna Gallo, from the Byzantine mosaic heartland of Ravenna, and Dr Helen Bodycomb, contemporary artist and mosaicist from Australia. For the first time, they are crafting a Severini-inspired approach to post-mid-century modern mosaics. Their combined artistry - melding diverse training, deep knowledge, and complementary perspectives - will make this a rare and privileged opportunity for participants. Expect sparks to fly and stars to align!

Your Host

Ingrid Gaiotto is a hospitality & tourism entrepreneur, interior designer and educator, originally from Biella in Piemonte and now based in Castlemaine, Victoria. Her passion for Italy inspired In giro Tours, offering unique and unforgettable travel experiences through the cultural symphony that is Italy — in the company of a local and well away from the tourist trail. As host and guide, Ingrid is enthusiastically welcoming.

Arianna Gallo graduated from the Mosaic Institute of Art 'Gino Severini' in 1995, and from the School of Mosaic Restoration (Soprintendenza of Cultural Heritage of Ravenna) in 1999. In 2005 Arianna Gallo opened the mosaic studio Koko Mosaico with her husband, well-known contemporary mosaicist Luca Barberini. Arianna is one of the leading lights in contemporary mosaic practice in Italy and is a delightfully cheerful, patient and immensely knowledgeable teacher of mosaic. We are delighted and privileged to be receiving her insightful and encouraging mosaic instruction.

Dr Helen Bodycomb is well known as one of Australia's leading contemporary mosaic artists and is one of just a few people worldwide with a practice-led PhD in the field. Her thesis, completed in 2019 through La Trobe University explored Mosaic: classical principles and the act of making in contemporary works. Confirmed as an authority in this unique artform, Helen brings an impressive range of expertise and teaching experience to our mosaic table. She is a passionate exponent of the historic and cultural origins of this ancient medium, is widely travelled and speaks Italian with abundant enthusiasm and growing fluency.

“As an Australian Mosaicist, exploring historical mosaic sites around the world is of utmost importance to me. It deepens my understanding, informs my teaching, and fuels my passion for this artform... This exceptional tour goes beyond with added luxuries, culinary delights, and cultural experiences, enhancing an already rich program. Ingrid [ensures] participants have access to highly informed tutors and guides, adding valuable educational, historical and cultural layers to the experience. I am fortunate to have joined both the Northern and Southern Tours, and I am immensely grateful for these unique opportunities.”

Caitlin Hepworth, Blue Mountains based visual artist and educator working predominantly in Sculptural Mosaic, who has been on two Mosaic Study Tours with Ingrid, Helen and Arianna
